RESOLVING CONFLICTS ON CAMPUS: STRATEGIES FOR ENHANCED POLICIES AND EFFECTIVE OPERATIONS

The European Network of Ombudsmen in Higher Education and will be joined once again by the Association of Canadian College and University Ombudspersons in planning for a joint ENOHE-ACCUO annual conference in 2018, this time in Edinburgh, Scotland. The meeting will take place between June 6 and 8, 2018 and will be hosted by the University of Edinburgh. The event will be coordinated by the Investigation Manager for the Vice Principals of Edinburgh University and the ENOHE Secretariat in Norway.

For its 14th annual conference in June 2018, the theme is "Resolving Conflicts on Campus: Strategies for Enhanced Policies and Effective Operations". The conference will focus on strategies for early and fair resolution of disputes by comparing different experiences of higher education ombudsmen in a wide variety of settings. The conference will feature a mix of plenary talks plus workshops and training sessions. Participants are able to focus on specific sub-themes to suit their personal development needs.

The conference will provide a forum for ombudsmen and higher education staff working in conflict and relationship management. It will provide an opportunity to share established policies of proven methods for dealing with individual or systemic issues and operations and their continuous development as they emerge.

A conference planning committee composed of members from both sides of the Atlantic will review proposals for workshops, sessions and roundtables. A call for papers is forthcoming. More details on the final programme will be available by the end of February 2018 at the very latest.

Participation costs, including lunches, refreshment breaks and gala dinner for the 2.5 day conference will be approximately £ 590,- including accommodation or £ 350,- without accommodation.
